DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it contains legal phraseology such as “comprises” in lines 2 and 4. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Objections

2. Claims 11, 15 and 17 are objected to because of the following informalities:

- Claim 11 appears to be depended on claim 10, not 11 as claimed.
- Claim 15 appears to be depended on claim 14, not 15 as claimed.
- Claim 17 appears to be depended on claim 16, not 17 as claimed.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C.

Art Unit: 2852

122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

4. Claims 1-7, 10, 11, 14-17 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Tange ['741].

Tange discloses an image forming apparatus comprising an image fixing apparatus [See Fig. 1] having a fixing roller [1] including an outer silicon rubber layer [12]; a pressure roller [2] in contact with said fixing roller [Col. 4, lines 17-18], said pressure roller comprising a hollow tube [21], an outer elastic layer [22] and an internal heating element [23] such as halogen heater; and an external heating roller [3] in contact with said fixing roller [Col. 4, lines 20-24], said external heating roller comprising a hollow tube [31] and an internal heating element [33] such as halogen heater.

Regarding claim 2, Tange discloses the fixing roller comprises a hollow tube [Col. 2, line 28] and an internal heating element [Col. 1, lines 40-42].

Regarding claim 20, the claimed method steps are inherited in the product structure.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2852

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claims 8, 12 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tange in view of Isogai ['060].

Tange, as discussed above, discloses the claimed invention except for the internal heating elements comprise tungsten filament halogen lamps.

Isogai discloses an image forming apparatus comprising a fixing device [24] having tungsten-halogen heating lamp [32] as a heating source [Col. 4, lines 26-27].

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have the internal heating elements disclosed by Tange comprise tungsten-halogen heating lamps as taught by Isogai for the purpose of providing sufficient heat to the fixing apparatus during the fixing process.

8. Claims 9, 13 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tange in view of Ciaschi et al. ['740]

Tange, as discussed above, discloses the claimed invention except for a second heating roller external to and in contact with the pressure roller.

Art Unit: 2852

Ciaschi et al. disclose a fixing device [Fig. 4] having a second heating roller [46] external to and in contact with the pressure roller [48].

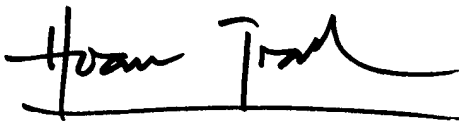

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have the image fixing apparatus disclosed by Tange including a second heating roller external to and in contact with the pressure roller as taught by Ciaschi et al. for the purpose of fixing toner images on both sides of the recording medium in a single pass.
